

The British Association of Paediatric Surgeons

The British Association of Paediatric Surgeons has members attached to most UK Medical Schools - the Peninsular Medical School would be an exception. I am aware of active involvement in Nottingham, Norwich and King's College, London.

Rick Turnock, Paediatric Surgeon in Liverpool and Head of Schools, attended the Surgical Scousers National Career's Weekend and spoke on 16 November 08.

The Association is meeting in March 09 to discuss our future direction - I will be sure to have Medical Students and their Surgical Societies on the agenda.

Yours sincerely,
David Drake, President.

David Drake
Paediatric Surgeon
Great Ormond Street Hospital